

LEAVE DETENTION BARRACKS: Capt. Robert F. Marasco, left, and Capt. Budge E. Williams departing confinement area at Longbinh after charges against them were dropped.

Author Says He Killed Agent in Vietnam

the novel "The Green Berets," says he personally killed a double agent while in South Vietnam with the Special Forces gathering material for his book.

that as a civilian he spent a year training with the Special Forces and another year with them in Vietnam before writing his book. It was published in 1965 by Crown Publishers, Inc.

"I've been to their assassina-planation of the agent's role appeared to be questionable because both Mr. Thieu and Mr. Thieu and Mr. Thieu and Mr. Thieu and Mr. Ky have consistently opposed any form of coalition government of the same time, observers that political assassination was "their business." Ne aid: "This is what they were rained to do. They do it very realied to be questionable because both Mr. Thieu and Mr. Ky have consistently opposed any form of coalition government for South Vietnam.

At the same time, observers doctors, the same time assassination to the vietnamese, the Special Forces also taught them "to be government for South Vietnam.

At the same time, observers doctors... everything that it takes to run a country namese leaders might have explored all possible means of exit in the event that they lost power. There have been reports against in addition to teaching techniques of terrorism and assassination to the vietnamese, the Special Forces also taught them "to be government for South Vietnam."

At the same time, observers doctors... everything that it takes to run a country properly."

"Assassination," he added, "is a very important way to exit in the event that they lost you just gotta learn that." during the television interview, Mr. Moore said of the Green Berets that political assassination was "their business." Ne said: "This is what they were trained to do. They do it very well and they're very good at it?"

Robin Moore, the author of said: "You've got to remember that many Vietnamese have that the Green Berets were the been taking steps to escape in ones that got Che Guevara in the event of a Communist take-Bolivia. They've been working over. very closely with the Arab countries in the Middle East. L. Moore Jr., in 1925, the son

Called Multiple Agent

as a a agent."

The novelist asserted that tels.

Mr. Moore was born Robert In an interview on WPIX-TV They're all over the world, of the chairman of the finance Monday night, Mr. Moore said Vietnam is only one small area and executive committees, that as a civilian he spent a of their operations." aton Corporation of America. Mr. Moore described Thai After graduation from Harvard Khac Chuyen, the alleged victim in the Green Beret case, and in public relations and advertising for the Sheraton Hotelston and the country of the sheraton and the sheraton and

"I've been to their assassination schools," Mr. Moore said. "The novelist asserted that the agent had been negotiating of South Vietnam's President, Nguyen Van Thieu, and Vice President, Nguyen Van Thieu and Vice President, Nguyen Cao Ky, with the North Vietnamese "as to how much of their property they would be able to keep should they stick with the idea of slowly having a coalition government."

Mr. Moore did not elaborate on the killing in which he said he was involved and he was not immediately available for comment. However, a few minutes after the interview he told employees of the television station that he felt free to talk about Special Forces practices now that the Army had dropped murder charges against six Green Beret officers in South Vietnam.

In response to a question.

The novelist asserted that the agent had been negotiating "President, Nguyen Cao Ky, with the North Vietnamese "as to how much of their property they would be able to keep should they stick with the idea of slowly having a coalition government."

Mr. Moore said the details of the negotiations included how much money Mr. Thieu and Mr. Ky could keep and how they and their families would be treated. "He was a story of the hotel chain, but eventually devoted all his time to writing. His other works include "The Devil to Pay," which was about Castro's guernilla campaign as seen by an American gun-runner and "The Country Team," a story of the combined American military and civilian effort against Communism in a country of South-was the feelevision interview that he believed the Army had dropped the case against the six officers to how much of their property they would be treated. "He was a story of the negotiations included how much money Mr. Thieu and Mr. Moore added.

To many observers this explantation of the agent's role appeared to be questionable between the case against is the age