THE NEW YORK TIMES, WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 15, 1969

Navy Narrows Grounds for Possible Pueblo Trial

By BERNARD WEINRAUB Special to The New York Times

CORONADO, Calif., Jan. 14 The United States Navy has quietly made a legal decision that blunts several possible charges of wrong-doing against Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher and the crewmen of the intelligence ship Pueblo.

ship Pueblo. The decision was made by the Judge Advocate General of the Navy in Washington. One portion specified that the Pueb-lo's crewmen, who "confessed" to espionage in North Korean waters, were "illegal detainees" and not prisoners of war. This sharply limits possible courts-martial against crewmen because regulations involving the conduct of American serv-icemen in enemy jails deal in icemen in enemy jails deal in large part with prisoners of war.

war. A related decision by the Navy also limits the charges that could be leveled against Commander Bucher, who sur-rendered the Pueblo, apparent-ly without a fight, to North Korean gunboats in the Sea of Japan on Jan. 23. The Navy has ruled that North Korea may not be considered an "en-emy" because the United States and North Koreans have ended hostilities. hostilities.

This places major naval reg-ations involving "capture by This places major naval reg-ulations involving "capture by the enemy" and "misbehavior before the enemy" in doubt in the event of courts-martial against members of the Pueblo

The Navy decision was first disclosed yesterday by Capt. William R. Newsome, a lawyer and Navy veteran of 26 years who will serve as the counsel who will serve as the counsel for the Pueblo's court of in-quiry starting next Monday. At the big naval base here. The decision was clarified to-day by other Navy lawyers. "We have had an opinion that the crew members of the Pueblo were not prisoners of war, they were illegally de-tained," said Captain Newsome. "We are not in a state of "We are not in a state of hostility at the present time with the North Koreans—con-sequently they are not the enemy."

Captain Newsome said that the Code of Conduct, which was expected to play a possible legal if not moral role in the case, would be "inapplicable" in the court of inquiry, to be con-ducted by five admirals. The code was issued by Presi-dent Eisenhower as an Execu-tive Order in 1955 after the numerous "confessions" of American prisoners during the Korean War. Every American serviceman is now given instructions in the code, which deals mostly with correct be-havior as a prisoner.

deals mostly with correct be-havior as a prisoner. The code says: "When ques-tioned, should I become a pris-oner of war, I am bound to give only name, rank, service number and date of birth. I will evade answering further questions to the utmost of my ability. I will make no oral or written statement disloyal to my country and its allies or harmful to their cause." Captain Newsome said:

harmful to their cause." Captain Newsome said: "Since they [the North Ko-reans] are not the enemy we don't have prisoners of war. And when we don't have pris-oners of war we don't have the application of the code of conduct." Discussing the reasons why North Korea was not now con-sidered an "enemy," Captain Newsome said:

Newsome said: "President Truman's proclamation in 1950 declared a na-tional emergency.

tional emergency. "To my knowledge that proc-lamation has never been re-scinded and for some intents and purposes we are still in a state of national emergency. "However, at the end of the Korean War there was a cessa-tion of hostilities between North Korea and the United States and our international CaptarStates and our internationalyearslaw people inform me that the cessation of these hostilities terminated the status of North here.against Commander Bucher and his crew in the event of a court-martial.renders or delivers up any command, unit, place or military property which it is his duty to defend."A to-vyers.Captain Newsome was then asked whether one could "surrender" to a non-enemy. He don't know, I honestly don't tres of the essme.One is Article 1223 of the Navy Regulations, which deals with the serviceman "who is says that each man can only the don't know, I honestly don't know," he said.Navy Regulation says that each man can only umber and date of birth. This of the captain Newsome said that the legal opinion had been time Judge Advocate General of the

that this opinion appeared to that this opinion had be usedThe other is Article 99 of the enemy runs away . . .The other is command for the presence of the enemy runs away . . .that that
that
that
that thatToday, a Navy lawyer said that this opinion appeared to imit at least two key military regulations that could be usedor shamefully abandons, sur-result abandons, sur-resist."