Some U.S. Concerns Would

By MICHAEL C. JENSEN
Some of the big United States corporations whose properties were seized by the Chilean Government of President Salvador Allende Gossens indicated yesterday that they might consider resuming manufacturing in Chile if a new government there were receptive to investment.

Most of the companion of the property run as high as $1-billion, most of it for the copper mines and processing facilities that provide Chile with its dominant industry.

Officials in the auto, chemical and communications industries indicated either that they might be interested in returning to Chile, or that they did not rule out such a possibility.

ment.

Most of the companies warned, however, that it was too early to assess the prospects of returning. Some of them said they were monitoring developments in Chile through radio stations transmitting from other Latin-American countries.

To Chile, or that they did not rule out such a possibility.

One exception was a copper company official who said there's no way we'd go back in." The domestic copper industry was especially hard hit by seizures of copper mines in Chile in the last few years.

Official comments were through radio stations transmitting from other Latin-American countries.

Properties of more than a dozen United States companies have been seized or sold under pressure to the Allende Government in the last few years. Thy include copper, steel, chemical rubber, automobile, communications and banking installations.

Estimates of the total value

Chile in the last few years.

Official comments were mainly of the wait-and-see variety, but behind the scenes there was some talk of returning.

A Ford Motor Company spokesman said that the company already had been holding informal discussions with the Allende Government about resuming its auto assembly activities, and that it would have

THE NEW YORK TIMES, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1973

Return to Chile if Government Welcomed Them

An industry source, however, Allende said the company was clearly licized. The content of the favorable market for automobiles in Latin America. Ford's assembly plant, valued by it at about $7-million, was taken over by the Chilean Government in mid-1971.

F. J. du Pont de Nemours & Challen Government of the Governme

Allende has been highly pub-$13.3-million, and that the Gov-$8.9-million.

The company still owns two hotels, a telephone parts factory and a telecommunications operation on Chile. Its 70 per cent share of the Chilean telephone company was seized by the Government.

Although some corporate officials did not eliminate the company at the company of companies allow million in uncollected interest. The company said it had received no reimbursement after asking for $76.7-million. There was no consistent impact in the stock market on companies with either past or current Chilean involvement. In a market that was down.

ernment there owed it $18-mil-to study the new developments. to prevent the election of Dr. valued its seized properties at ical has submitted a claim for

Some other companies al-operation on Chile. Its 70 per cent sasemoly plant, valued by it at about $7-million, was taken over by the Chilean Government in mid-1971.

E. I. du Pont de Nemours & Co., the big chemical manufacturer, said it sold products in Chile, and would look at the country, as it did other Latin American countries, for possible investment opportunities.

Chile bought a small explosives plant from du Pont for $1-million in early 1972.

A spokesman for the International Telephone and Telephone and