Ford's Meeting With Connally In Houston

Washington

Robert Hartmann, President Ford's chief political adviser, said yesterday that the President had not intended to meet alone for 45 minutes with former Treasury Secretary John B. Connally when in Houston Monday.

He said Connally was among a number of Texas Republican leaders the President had arranged to see.

After meeting with the group at the Shamrock Hilton Hotel, Hartman said, "Connally just hung around and the rest left." He and the President then conferred for about 45 minutes.
