Kennedy 'Plot' Trial Ordered by Judges

By GENE ROBERTS

NEW ORLEANS, March 17. A panel of three judges ruled today that there was sufficient evidence to try Clay L. Shaw, a retired New Orleans business executive, on charges of conspiring to assassinate President Kennedy.
District Attorney Jim Garrison said he would soon file formal charges and a bill of information against Mr. Shaw, the legal steps needed to set the trial procedure in motion.

The decision of the Orleans Parish (county) criminal court came after a four-day hearing in which a former narcotics addict, who first denied, then asserted that he had known Mr. Shaw and Lee Harvey Oswald, gave the chief testimony.

Mr. Garrison contends that Mr. Shaw, Oswald and the late

Continued on Page 48, Column 1

David W. Ferrie, an airline pilot, conspired at a meeting in September of 1963 to kill the

The judges handed down their decision minutes after a former narcotics addict, Vernon Bundy, 29 years old, testified that he saw Mr. Shaw and Oswald talking together in the summer of 1963 on the shores of Lake Pontchartrain.

The ruling by Judges Mal-colm V. O'Hara, Bernard J. colm V. O'Hara, Bernard J. Bagert and Mathew S. Braniff means that District Attorney Jim Garrison can bring Mr. Shaw to trial without seeking an indictment from a grand jurv.

However, he must file a bill information in which he denowere, he must hie a fill of information in which he details charges against Mr. Shaw. The judges ruled that Mr. Shaw may remain free on $10,000 bond until the trial ends. The judges ruled that enough evidence had been presented by Mr. Garrison and his staff to show "probable cause" that a crime had been committed and to justify a trial in the matter. Although pretrial hearings, rather than indictments by a grand jury, are often held in Louisiana to determine whether there is enough evidence to bring a defendant to trial, this one was unusual because it was requested by the district attorrequested by the district attorney.

Usually, the district attorney files formal charges and a bill of indictment against a defendant and then if the defense wishes, it can ask for a pre-trial hearing to challenge the charges.

Mr. Garrison said that he would file the bill of information within the next few days when he might bring Mr. Shaw to trial.

When he was arrested on March 1, Mr. Shaw was accused of having participated in the conspiracy, but no formal charges were brought against him.

As one of Mr. Garrison's two the witnesses, Bundy testified that in June or July of 1963 he was preparing to inject the contents of two capsules of contents of two capsules of heroin in his arm at Lake Ponchartrain when he saw Mr. Shaw step from a car and walk toward him.

Met By 'a Junkie'

Met By 'a Junkie Mr. Shaw walked past him, he went on, waited a few moments and then was met by a "junkie or beatnik type of guy, he was in pretty nasty shape, needed a shave." That man, Bundy said, was Oswald, who killed President Kennedy. Bundy said he had heard Osmand to the said of the sai who killed President Kennedy.

Bundy said he had heard Oswald say, "What am I going to tell her [his wife]?"
"This older fellow [who Bundy said was Mr. Shaw] said, according to Bundy, "Don't worry about that, I'll take care of it."

At this point, Bundy contin-ued, Mr. Shaw handed Oswald some money and when Oswald attempted to stuff the money in his pocket he dropped some "Cuba" leaflets on the ground.

Under cross - examination.

Under cross - examination, Bundy said that he used narcotics for 12 years before the summer of 1963 and had since received a sentence of five years on probation for "simple burglary" of a vending machine.

chine.

At the time of the alleged conversation between Oswald and Mr. Shaw, he testified, he had been using three or four capsules of heroin on a daily basis for two years. The day before the conversation, he said, he took five capsules of heroin. Bundy came into the courtroom from the Orleans Parish Jail, which he entered voluntarily nine days ago because he "felt the urge" to take more narcotics.

He said he had recognized Oswald from pictures taken at the time of the assassination as the man he had seen with Mr. Shaw but he never told anyone his story until yesterday when he was questioned by the district attorney's office. He pointed Mr. Shaw out in the courtroom as the older man he saw that day.

When asked how he was sure the alleged conversation took place in June or July, he said, "Those are my two worst months."

"Something," he said, "always happens to me between June and July."

The other witness against Mr. Shaw was Perry Raymond Shaw but he never told anyone

Mr. Shaw was Perry Raymond Russo, a 25-year-old life insurance salesman Baton Rouge.

In nearly three days of testimony, Mr. Russo said repeatedly but gave no indication as to that he had heard Mr. Shaw, another name, Clem Bertrand, when he might bring Mr. Shaw Mr. Ferrie and Oswald discuss- when he had known him.

that he had heard Mr. Snaw, another name, Clem Bertrand, Mr. Ferrie and Oswald discussing when he had known him.

Mr. Ferrie and Oswald discussing when he had known him.

Kennedy. The discussions took place, he said, in a meeting in Mr. Ferrie's apartment on Lousisiana Avenue Parkway here in mid September of 1963.

In asking the three-judge panel to dismiss the accusations against Mr. Shaw, the defense argued that Mr. Russo had contradicted himself at several points in his testimony.

Mr. Russo told Baton Rouge reporters in a tape recorded interview on Feb. 24 that he had never heard of Oswald clean shaven and neatly dressed less than seven interview on Feb. 24 that he had never heard of Oswald clean shaven and neatly dressed less than seven weeks before the assassination. When the defense demanded to know why he still had not said in another recorded interview on March 1 that he did not know Mr. Shaw.

At the hearing he said that Mr. Shaw had been using the however, he said in the however, he said in the hearing that he had not recognized Oswald from pictures taken at the time of the assassination because Oswald had been wearing "a three or four days' growth of beard" assassination because Oswald conspiracy meeting.

But under cross-examination he conceded that he had seen when he attended the alleged conspiracy meeting.

But under cross-examination he conceded that he had seen when he attended the assassination. When the defense demanded to know why he still had not seen him for "only eight or 10 minutes" when he was clean shaven.