Cuban Refugee Says RFK Was To Speak Here

Carlos Bringuier, Cuban refugee and head of the Cuban Student Directory, disclosed today that Sen. Robert F. Kennedy had written to him, promising to address the refugees here and expressing sympathy with their cause.

Bringuier said he had invited Kennedy to address the Cubans on his scheduled visit to the city in April. He said Kennedy wrote, saying he would be unable to talk at that time but would like to speak to the Cubans at a later date.

Bringuier said as he watched the election returns come in from the California presidential primary he was "thinking the only one who could have helped us (the Cubans) was Sen. Kennedy."

He said he has sent a telegram to Mrs. Ethel Kennedy which reads:

"In this tragic moment, in the name of all Cuban refugees, I want to express our condolences for this stupid attack and we pray God for the life and recovery of your husband."

He said "this is a tragedy for this country. Violence from one side or the other is no good." He said he is deeply sorry for all Americans.

High Court Denies Kohn Rehearing

The Louisiana Supreme Court has denied a rehearing of its April decision clearing Metropolitan Crime Commission director Aaron M. Kohn of contempt of court and lifting his Parish Prison sentence on the charge.

Criminal District Judge Matthew S. Braniff sentenced Kohn to jail after he refused to disclose names of informers who gave him information about local gambling operations.

He was asked to give the information to the Orleans Parish Grand Jury and he refused.

The district attorney's office sought the rehearing on grounds the proceeding in which Kohn was cleared is moot because the grand jury originally seeking the information is out of office. The court denied the DA's petition saying Kohn could have ended his sentence by furnishing the information to a succeeding grand jury.

Definite authorship of the Epistle to the Hebrews in the New Testament is unknown. It has been credited to Barnabas, Apollo and the Apostle Paul.
