Shaw Lead, A054

NEW ORLEANS AP - Swift rejection of prospective jurors brought an early recess today in the trial of Clay L. Shaw, charged with conspiring to kill President John F. Kennedy. "Do you have a fixed opinion as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant?" the judge asked the prospects. Of the 18 prospective jurors interrogated this morning, 13 said they did have fixed opinions and were rejected.

Two others were excused because their employers would not continue their pay during jury confinement, two for family reasons and one turned out to be an alien resident and therefore not qualified.

The jurors were asked, among other things, whether they thought the Warren Commission was right in saying that Lee Harvey Oswald shot Kennedy, working alone and for reasons unknown.

The fast pace of the proceedings today exhausted the number of prospects on hand and 50 more were ordered up for the afternoon session.

SHAW

NEW ORLEANS AP - Two more jurors were seated Wednesday for the trial of Clay Shaw, charged with conspiring to murder President John F. Kennedy. Both survived rigorous questioning.

The jurors have been asked whether they thought the Warren Commission was right in saying that Lee Harvey Oswald shot Kennedy, working alone and for reasons unknown.

The only acceptable answer to both state and defense was "I have no opinion."

Four jurors were seated in the first two days of what the prosecution predicts might be a two-month hearing. It resumes today with efforts continuing to pick a jury.

The two chosen Wednesday were William Ricks Jr., 31, a school teacher, and Charles D. Ordes, 29, assembly line supervisor at a can manufacturing plant.

Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison has rejected the Warren Commission conclusions, charging that Shaw, 55, a retired businessman, conspired with Oswald and others to assassinate Kennedy.

The defense issued new subpoenas including one for Mrs. Ruth Hyde Paine of Irving, Tex., who befriended Oswald's wife Marina during periods Oswald was out of work.
