

Clay Gave Oswald Money, Court Told

NEW ORLEANS — (UPI) — A witness in the Clay Shaw trial testified today that in June, 1963, he had seen Shaw give Lee Harvey Oswald "what looked to me like money."

Shaw, 55, a retired businessman, is charged with conspiring with Oswald and the late David Ferrie to murder President Kennedy.

The witness, Vernon W. Bundy Jr., who said that at the time he was a heroin addict, and testified that he was on the New Orleans waterfront when he saw Shaw drive up in a black limousine and Oswald approach on foot.

He said the two talked for a while and then Shaw gave Oswald what appeared to be money.

Another witness bolstered the prosecution's claim that Shaw, who says he "never laid eyes" on Oswald, was also with him in a rural Louisiana town in 1963.

William Dunn, a Clinton, La., farmer and construction worker and the sixth prosecution witness, pointed out Shaw in the crowded courtroom.

Dunn said he had been working with the Congress of Racial Equality during a voter registration drive in late August or early September, 1963, and saw Shaw at the wheel of a parked Cadillac in front of the registrar's office. The witness said Oswald stood in line nearby to register.

DESCRIBES MAN

He said the man at the wheel was "a big man, big shoulders with gray hair."

"Do you see that man in court?" asked Assistant District Attorney Andrew Sciambra.

"I do," replied Dunn.

He pointed a left forefinger at the silver-haired, 6-foot-4 Shaw.

Dunn identified Oswald from a picture as "one white boy" he saw in line with a group of Negroes.

CUBA LEAFLETS

Charles H. Steel Jr., an air conditioning worker, testified he met Oswald Aug. 16, 1963, at an employment agency and spent 10 or 15 minutes handing out Fair Play for Cuba leaflets in front of the International Trade mart with Oswald and another man he did not know.

Shaw was managing editor of the mart at the time.

Three other witnesses testified that they saw Oswald handing out the same leaflets on other occasions.
