

An AP correspondent reported from the South Vietnamese border with Laos today that a sign that was placed there last week saying "Warning - No U.S. personnel beyond this point" is no longer there. He said that no one was able to explain what happened to the sign.