Volunteer Doctors

A group of volunteer doctors will fly to South Vietnam on Sunday to assist wounded and ailing refugees fleeing the Communists, a Los Gatos dentist said yesterday.

Dr. Bert Sabo, 40, said pediatricians are especially needed by his new group, International Medical Volunteers.

"Kids are the ones who die fastest when they get dysentery, for example, because they dehydrate so quickly," he said.

Dr. Sabo said 28 doctors had volunteered to go to South Vietnam as of yesterday, but that he hoped to sign up at least 50 by this weekend for the ten-day trip.

Doctors, dentists and nurses interested in volunteering should telephone him at 354-6671.
