

SFChronicle

APR 15 1975

War's Misery On Two Fronts

AP Wirephoto

Misery continued in South Vietnam northeast and south of Saigon. At Rach Dao, in the Mekong Delta south of the capital, an amputee stood amidst the rubble of a building destroyed in the fighting Saturday. And in Xuan Loc, where a crucial and bitter battle is raging, refugees tried desperately yesterday to board a helicopter taking off after dropping supplies to government troops in the embattled area.

UPI Telephoto