Saigon MAY 31 1975

Free rice has been given out to nearly a quarter of a million of Saigon's 3.5 million inhabitants in the first stage of a new anti-hunger campaign, the official newspaper Saigon Giai Phong reported.

So far, 241,988 Saigonese have received a free ration of 11 pounds of rice for ten days as part of the "campaign against the hunger brought on by the Americans and their puppets," the newspaper reported.
