

VIETNAMESE PROTESTERS — U.S. officials round up some of the 450 South Vietnamese refugees who marched out of their camp on Guam Thursday and yesterday to demonstrate their desire to return to their country immediately. Later, Guam Gov. Ricardo Bordallo said he would do whatever he could to expedite their return to Vietnam. A Guam legislator asked that the refugees be moved to Wake Island.

Associated Press