

Viet Camp Closed

Agana, Guam

Tin City, a Vietnamese refugee complex at Andersen Air Force Base, closed quietly last weekend.

There was no ceremony nor any official announcement of the closing Saturday, four months to the day after the first group of refugees arrived on this western Pacific island.

Tin City accommodated up to 4800 refugees in its first few days of operation. Later arrivals were housed in other camps, including the tent city complex, which have since been closed.

Associated Press