N. Vietnam Denies
U.S. Arms Sale

Agence France-Presse

HANOI, Sept. 11—North Vietnam today categorically denied reports that negotiations were under way between Hanoi and foreign arms dealers for the sale of American war material captured in South Vietnam.

The Vietnamese news agency said that the news media had launched rumors that Vietnam had invited dealers to Hanoi to sell them captured American material. The report originated in the Far Eastern Economic Review, a news weekly published in Hong Kong.

The news agency said "these badly intended reports are a total fabrication."
