

New Name for Cambodia

Cambodia

Cambodia announced yesterday it has changed its name to "Democratic Cambodia" and has formed a new government with a new constitution.

In a broadcast monitored in Bangkok, the official radio station in Phnom Penh announced the name change and said the new government will be "neutral and unaligned."

The broadcast said Prince Norodom Sihanouk will remain chief of state under a constitution that took effect yesterday. Details of the constitution, approved by a council of government ministers Saturday, will be announced later, the broadcast said.

The drafting of the constitu-

---

San Francisco Chronicle 7

★ Tues., Jan. 6, 1976

---

tion began last April 25, a week after the U.S.-backed regime of General Lon Nol fell to Communist-supported Khmer Rouge insurgents.

United Press

---