

Reports Say Fighting Still Going On in Vietnam

Bangkok

Armed resistance is continuing against the eight-month-old Communist regime in South Vietnam, the official North Vietnam news agency reported today.

The agency gave no details, other than to say that North

Vietnamese forces were continuing operations to track down the resisters.

The report came in an optimistic summation of accomplishments in South Vietnam since the Communist victory April 30.

United Press

---

---