Pull Cord to Stop Press

ORACLES AT WORK: "U. S. troops will not go to war in Cambodia. Nixon won't risk another deep involvement. He'll send some weapons ... plus other gestures to show that we're not turning our backs entirely. But what Cambodians really want are U. S. 'advisers' along with the aid. Answer to that, NO." Foregoing from the April 24 issue of Mr. Kiplinger's Washington Newsletter.

COVERING ALL FRONTS: On KPIX's "Mid-morning" yesterday, Financial Analyst Bob Kinsman described the reeling stock market as "Nixon's Market" adding in an aside to Rolfe Peterson: "Y'know, he'd be safer at a Black Panther rally in Harlem than on Wall Street today" ... Graffito looking for a wall to land on: "Is the new Nixon the old Johnson?" ... However, Dick Tuck thinks the Democrats should forget past grievances and nominate LBJ in 1972 on the slogan: "He Kept Us Out of Cambodia!" ... Californian in Washington to HEW's Bob Finch: "Well, are you sorry now you didn't accept the Vice Presidency?" Finch, wryly: "I'd probably have as much trouble getting the President's ear on that job as I'm having on this one."
