

NOV 24 1970

Educated vs. Civilized

To the Editor:

I can only assume that you saw fit to publish Dr. Paul Williamson's Op. Ed. open letter to his son (Nov. 12) as an object lesson, to show that an educated person is not necessarily a civilized person.

Those of us who feel we have attained some degree of civilization can only hope that the doctor and others of his ilk—and their number must be legion—will continue to write letters, instead of coming out from under their rocks with their guns blasting. Surely the good doctor keeps one in his medical bag.

If it matters, I am a beardless 49-year-old WASP. JAMES BOLGER
Old Lyme, Conn., Nov. 13, 1970