

“People want peace so much that one of these days governments had better get out of their way and let them have it.”

President Dwight D. Eisenhower—August, 1959

The government is not making peace. President Nixon, like his predecessors, speaks the words of peace, but pursues the politics of war. The invasion of Laos, the invasion of Cambodia. And now there are threats of an invasion of North Viet Nam and danger of a confrontation with China.

A recent Gallup Poll says 73% of the American People want the U. S. out of Viet Nam by the end of 1971. 73%.

So the people are going to make peace. With the People's Peace Treaty.

The Treaty sets forth principles worked out by Americans and Vietnamese in meetings between the United States National Student Association and the National Student Unions in Saigon and Hanoi.

We believe the principles are realistic, honorable, and acceptable. We ask you to consider them.

Principles of the Joint Treaty of Peace

Between the People of the United States, South Viet Nam, and North Viet Nam.

1. Americans agree to immediate and total withdrawal from Viet Nam, and publicly to set the date by which all U.S. military forces will be removed. Vietnamese agree to participate in an immediate cease-fire, and will enter discussions on the procedures to

Between the People of the United States, South Viet Nam, and North Viet Nam.

1. Americans agree to immediate and total withdrawal from Viet Nam, and publicly to set the date by which all U.S. military forces will be removed.
Vietnamese agree to participate in an immediate cease-fire, and will enter discussions on the procedures to guarantee the safety of all withdrawing troops, and to secure release of all military prisoners.
2. Americans pledge to stop imposing Thieu, Ky, and Khiem on the people of South Viet Nam in order to ensure their right to self-determination, and to ensure that all political prisoners are released.
Vietnamese pledge to form a provisional coalition
3. Americans and Vietnamese agree to respect the independence, peace and neutrality of Laos and Cambodia.
Upon these points of agreement, we pledge to end the war. We will resolve all other questions in mutual respect for the rights of self-determination of the people of Viet Nam and of the United States.

This is not a petition. It's a Joint Treaty of Peace.

We need your commitment. Endorsing the Principles of the Treaty is just the beginning. We need your energy to carry the Treaty into every home, church, professional association, union, city council, business group, school, club and community organization.

And of course, we need money.

Majority opinion must be translated into majority action.

It's time we come together as individuals and organizations. To endorse the principles of peace. To give a common focus to all our efforts for ending the war. And to decide what actions we'll take to make peace in 1971.

If millions of us endorse these Principles and pledge to organize actions, peace can be won this year.
