North Vietnam's foreign minister, Xuan Thuy, in an apparent reference to President Nixon's plans to visit Peking, yesterday accused the United States of seeking to "divide the Communist world" by "perfidious maneuvers" in a "false offensive" for peace in Vietnam.

..... The Saigon spokesman, Nguyen Trieu Dan, told newsmen that since China "bore a responsibility for the war" because it has supplied arms and material for the fighting in Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, China also has a "responsibility in the search for peace."
