

Memo to The Chief

This terse admonition appeared yesterday on Lombard street, four blocks from the Presidio, as part of an anti-war billboard campaign sponsored by a servicemen's group called the Bay Area Concerned Military.

Six more signs will be posted, all near military installations in the area.

An announcement from the group said that, "by erecting seven billboards, we feel we stand an excellent chance of having the President get our message."

