A RALLY TO 'EVICT' NIXON SET OCT. 26

Mayday Tribe Also Planning
Demonstrations Oct. 25

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10—The Mayday Tribe will return to the nation's capital Oct. 25, with plans to "surround and close the White House" during a rally the next day.

The new demonstrations come after the American Civil Liberties Union won a ruling Oct. 1 from a three-judge panel of the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit that struck down virtually all the Government's prosecutions of the more than 12,000 persons arrested in demonstrations here last May. At that time, the tribe, a loosely organized coalition of young white radicals, attempted to shut down the Government by blocking traffic in Washington.

The court's ruling banned dissemination of any arrest records from the demonstrations, ordered the District of Columbia to refund collateral forfeited by those arrested, enjoined prosecution in the 325 cases still pending until further screening is done and warned that all the arrest records might be expunged, except for those involving convictions. Fewer than 200 persons have been found guilty in the trials that followed the mass arrests.

Rallies Begin Wednesday

Antiwar demonstrations this fall will start with numerous small rallies across the country on Wednesday, sponsored by the National Peace Action Coalition. Regional rallies are set for major cities on Nov. 6.

Plans for the demonstrations in Washington, announced Thursday on the steps of the Justice Department, include a "people's grand jury" to examine events in the prison uprising at Attica, N. Y., and the war in Vietnam, a display of photographs and drawings of life in America, a rally at the Sylvan Theater and a candlelight march around the White House on Oct. 25.

David Dellinger and Rennie Davis, leaders of the demonstrations, sponsored by the People's Coalition for Peace and Justice, said they had held initial meetings with Government officials and expected to receive permits for the events on the 25th. Mr. Dellinger said that the streets around the White House would be blocked for the "Evict Nixon" rally on the 26th. He said that the demonstration would occur even if the group did not receive a permit.

Harlington Wood Jr., Associate Deputy Attorney General, said he expected to meet again soon with the group and issue an answer to its request by the end of the week.

Police officials would not comment on whether they might again use the controversial mass-arrest tactics if the demonstrations were held without a permit.

Mr. Davis said the activities here were the beginning of a continuing campaign to unseat President Nixon.
