

The CIA: A Visible Government in Indochina

by Fred Branfman and Steve Cohn

"The CIA may or may not be an invisible government here at home ... but to those close to the war it is one of the most visible - and important - governments in Indo-China today."