FBI Views Dead-End Clues To King Case Mystery Man

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP)-Dead-end clues to a man who vanished without a trace apparently confronted FBI agents today in their investigation of the sniper slaying of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

False leads multiplied in the hunt for Eric Starvo Galt, a mysterious quiet-talking man mysterious quiet-taiking man whose last known address was a Birmingham rooming house. His former landlord said yesterday he had identified drawings shown by FBI agents as resembling Eric Galt.

ber, he turned in the keys to his safety deposit box at the Birmingham Trust National Bank. In addition, a duplicate driver's license for Eric Starvo Galt was mailed to the Birmingham dadages. March 1 pagely seven day by the FBI in Atlanta. It fit the description of a car seen leaving the scene after King was killed April 4 by a sniper firing from a rooming house in Memphis Tann Memphis, Tenn.

Memphis witnesses described the suspected assassin, who registered as John Willard at a rooming house opposite King's motel, as about six feet and san-dy-haired and "a clean, neat man."

No trace of Willard has apparently been found.

AN FBI alert for Eric Starvo Galt in a white Mustang was issued in Florida last Thursday, but was canceled. However, the FBI has continued a search for Galt's whereabouts or clues to his past.

After Cherpes disclosed what his boarder said of his work and background, Associated Press inquiries turned up blanks.

Is there a real Eric Starvo
Galt? The FBI was asked, but declined comment. Neither would the FBI say why Galt was wanted, though the Florida alert had sought only to spot the man, not arrest him. No warrant had been issued then.

THE man known as Eric Galt had said he was employed at a had said he was employed at a Mississippi shipyard, but there was no record of him. He claimed he held Louisiana driver's license six years ago, but no record was found in the files. There are mysteries within the mystery: Galt left the Birmingham boarding house last Oct 7. saving he had a ship job.
