

F. Lee Bailey, the 39-year-old trial lawyer, and Lynda Hart, a 25-year-old airline stewardess, were married Saturday in a motel near the Des Moines airport. Present were Iowa's Governor, Robert Ray, and former Army Captain Ernest Medina, who was successfully defended by Mr. Bailey in his court-martial on charges related to the My Lai massacre in Vietnam, and now is vice president of a Bailey-owned helicopter company. It was the bride's first marriage, the bridegroom's third.
