

San Francisco Chronicle 11
☆☆ Wed., June 3, 1970

Nixon Aide Returns to Stanford

Washington

Roger A. Freeman, a special assistant to President Nixon, resigned yesterday to return to his post as Stanford University.

"I have several long-standing commitments at Stanford's Hoover Institution on War, Revolution and Peace where I initiated some major projects which were not completed when I left."