

Special to The New York Ti

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25-The of stability which have set the Western commitment to seek stage for it."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—The Western commitment to seek ta relaxation of tensions be-tween the East and the West in Europe was renewed by President Nixon today with a caution to Western nations against accomplishing this at the expense of iallied solidarity. In his message to Congress on foreign affairs, the President said the United States and its European allies would press in the coming year for mutual re-duction of military forces in Eastern and Western Europe. But he emphasized that the European security conference successfully concluded. Despite explicitly approving of the new "independence and vitality" of West European diplomacy, his comments about a wariness over Soviet tactics. He seemed to indicate a nerv-ousness about the possibility that Western powers might be a wariness over Soviet tactics. He seemed to indicate a nerv-ousness about the possibility that Western powers might be drawn inadvertently into ar-rbangements with Moscow at the expense of their allies. Although Mr. Nixon did not name any foreign leader dis-name any foreign leader dis-dicated that Mr. Nixon's pri-mary concern was over the Eastern policy of the West Eastern policy of the West fernant, and possibly over the French dialogue with Moscow. Stress on 'Solidarity'

Stress on 'Solidarity' Mr. Nixon's comments about Europe were replete with refer-ences to the importance of Western "solidarity" and "co-munist military group, and the hesion" and the need to "har-monize" Western diplomatic and other Communist powers. "We and our allies sek a European détente," he said, ut we know that we cannot achieve it if we let slip away the close friendships in the West and the basic conditions force West European forces. The President described the

THE NEW YORK TIMES, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 25, 1971

et Efforts for Accord

With East Mar Allied

Unity

2-26-7/

NYT