House, 381-19, Votes to Extend President's Wage-Price Power

MAR 1 1 1971 Special to The New York Times

The House approved today a two-year extension of a law giving President Nixon stand-by authority to impose wage, price and rent controls.

The Nixon Administration had vigorously opposed enactment of the stand-by authority had vigorously opposed enactment of the stand-by authority last summer. Republicans accused Democrats at that time of trying to "pass the buck to the President" as a pre-election "campaign ploy."

However, in recent weeks, the Administration reversed its stand and endorsed extension of the act.

In endorsing extension of the act.

In endorsing extension of stand-by authority to impose ministration apparently felt it should keep open its options for stiffer action if construction costs continued to spiral.

In endorsing extension of from Congress.

The bill also authorizes $20-million to administer any controls that might be ordered. The existing law carries no provision for financing controls.

Under the House-passed bill, the President would continue to the President would continue to have stand-by authority to issue (AP) — Dr. Arthur F. Burns, orders to stabilize prices, rents, chairman of the Federal Rewages and salaries at levels not less than those prevailing on May 25 last year. Such orders would impose ceilings. There labor laws to reduce the powwould be nothing to prevent er of unions to force wages prices from falling below such ceilings.

WASHINGTON, March 10 - Connally Jr. pledged that Pres-

The President, too, made this and rent controls.

Only token opposition was offered as the bill cleared the House by a vote of 381 to 19. Senate approval is expected before the existing act expires on March 31.

The Nixon Administration had vigorously opposed enact-

The more limited move was

Curb on Labor Envisioned

WASHINGTON, March 10

prices from falling below such ceilings.

The bill would limit any wage-price freeze ordered by themselves," he said while testithemselves," he said while testithemselves, while testithemselves, is a said while testithemselves, while testithemselves, while testithemselves, is a said while testithemselves, whil