BLACKS IN HOUSE GET NIXON PLEDGE

MAR 26 1971 President Names Five From Staff to Study Pleas-Both Sides Hail Parley

By PAUL DELANEY Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, March 25-President Nixon appointed a committee of White House staff members today to work on a list of recommendations from black members of the House of Representatives, with whom he met earlier in the day.

The meeting, described as fruitful and worthwhile by the President and the Representatives was the culmination of a year's attempt by the black Democrats to meet with Mr. Nixon to discuss problems of i blacks and other minorities.

Following the conference, the Representatives expressed satisfaction with the President's immediate response.

MacGregor Heads Panel

The leader of the group, Charles C. Diggs Jr. of Michigan, said that Mr. Nixon had made a personal commitment to follow up on more than 60 recommendations presented to him. The President promised that if necessary he would meet again with the group, which calls itself the Congressional Black Caucus.

Mr. Nixon named Clark Mac-Gregor, Counsel to the President, to head a White House panel to study the recommendations and seek ways to implement them. Also named were Robert H. Finch, a counselor, Donald Rumsfeld, an assistant, Leonard Garment, special consultant, and Robert J, Brown, a special assistant.

Following the meeting, the black officials refused to go

Continued on Page 20, Column 5

5, FRIDAY, MARCH 26, 1971

BLACKS IN HOUSE GET NIXON PLEDGE

Continued From Page 1, Col. 2 into detail about their reac-tions. Mr. Diggs said that the tone had been good and that the President had been sympa-thetic to the recommendations. "Of course, implementation will be the important factor, in our judgment," Mr. Diggs The meeting, held in the our judgment," Mr. Diggs as well as those who live in the suburbs. "Our people are no longer "Our people are no longer asking for equality as a rhetori-train as a rhetori-tra Accommendations i abuse and crime and a fair share of public funds for mi-norities. Mr. Diggs said the country was better off because of the meeting in that Mr. Nixon had recognized "that there is a group in the Congress that is uniquely sensitive to a very large section of this country." However, in their strongly-worded, 32-page booklet con-taining the recommendations, the black congressmen ques-tioned the Administration's commitment to civil rights. They said: "We would be less than hon-

They said: "We would be less than honwe would be less than non-est, Mr. President, if we did not reflect a view widely shared among a majority of the citi-zens we represent. "That view is that the repre-sentatives of this Administra sentatives of this Administra-tion, by word and deed, have at crucial points retreated from the national commitment to Ralph H. Metcalfe, Illinois; P the national commitment to Kalph H. Metcalle, Hilliols; r-make Americans of all races ren Mitchell, Maryland, a and cultures equal in the eyes of their Government—to make equal the poor as well as the rich, urban and rural dwellers as well as those who live in the suburbs. "Our people are no longer" The group also included a was elected Tuesday as n District of Columbia. "Our people are no longer" The group's statement.

our judgment," Mr. Diggs added. The group gave guarded sup-port to the President's revenue-sharing proposal but recom-mended against considering na-tionalization of welfare as an alternative to revenue sharing. The caucus recommended eradication of racism; a guar-antee of the right to "a decent living or the means to survive in dignity when available"; fair, impartial jus-share of public funds for mi-commendes for mi-commended against drug abuse and crime and a fair share of public funds for mi-commendes for mi-commendes for mi-commended against drug abuse and crime and a fair share of public funds for mi-commendes for m