Building Unions Will Fight Nixon's Wage-Curb Order

MAR 3 1 1971

By PHILIP SHABECOFF

Special to The New York Times

A spokesman for the nation's by the President for the conconstruction unions declared struction industry. He said the today that President Nixon had steelworkers imposed "full controls" on con-nothing less than the 31.5 per struction industry wages, al-cent pay increase over three though the Administration nad years won by the union in the characterized the move as can industry. [Details on Page something less.

The spokesman, C. J. Hagand construction trades department of the American Federagerty, president of the building tion of Labor and Congress of quire fines or injunctions for the construction unions would the President's criteria.

Meanwhile, I. W. Abel, president of the United Steelworkers of America, said his union could not accept a contract Continued on Page 74, Column 1

WASHINGTON, March 30-that followed the guidelines set would accept 27.]

Attorneys for the construction unions said Mr. Nixon's Industrial Organizations, said wage settlements that exceeded President Nixon issued the "obey the law" but would "fight" the President's Executive order yesterday in Son Clements Colif The order tive order by all legal means. San Clemente, Calif. The order try craft dispute boards and a construction industry stabiliza-tioned only indirect reprisals for failure to comply. One such pension of the Davis-Bacon Ac reprisal would be the Government's refusal to use unacceptable wage settlements as the prevailing rate under the Davis-Bacon Act, which requires contractors to pay prevailing wages on Federal projects.

They also said that the order would allow the stabilization committee to defer any wage increase for at least 15 days. In fact, they said, the directive, which makes it a violation to implement a wage increase that has not been approved by the has not been approved by the committee, could mean that wage increases would be held up indefinitely.

Mr. Haggerty, at a news conference after a meeting of 16 general presidents of the building and construction unions said the unions had not ye

Continued From Page 1, Col. 3 decided whether to participate in the craft boards called for tion committee to monitor wage in the Executive order.

The order also stablished criteria for acceptable wage increases, which would be at the creases, which would be at the level of annual increases in the 1961-68 period — about 6 per cent a year.

Criteria for a raise is and other to participate ers, cooks, porters and other service employers under conprivate employers under conprivate employers under conprivate to the Government.

The witnesses said there were 1.5 million to 2 million of these workers.

The witnesses told the Special Labor Subcommittee of the House Education and Labor Committee that many Government.

The statement called the Expensive for private employers under conprivate employers

The statement called the Ex-ment installation order "fundamentally wage freezes." Criteria for price increases, bonuses, dividends "and the like" will be established in the like" The statement called the Executive order "fundamentally unfair in applying strict conlike" will be established in the future, according to the order procedure with respect
The order specificallymen- prices and profits."

Unionists Testify

on Federal projects.

Mr. Nixon's reinstated the Davis-Bacon Act yesterday afte suspending it last month.

Fines Held Possible

The union lawyers said today that the order would enable the Secretary of Labor to impose fines of up to $5,000 or to obtain court injunctions under the Economic Stabilization Act of 1970 if he finds violations.

They also said that the order would allow the stabilization and the part of the part of the part of the product of the part of the part of the part of the part of the product of the part of the Committee that many Govern-ment installations had imposed

One witness, David L. Jacobs, business manager of a local in Laredo, Tex., said that in many The union presidents welcomed the lifting of the suspension of the Davis-Bacon Ac Lintensies Testify the same work.

Meanwhile, a special Con-Representative James G. gressional subcommitte heard O'Hara, a Michigan Democrat, allegations that the Administra- who is a member of the subtion was failing to carry out committee and was an original legislation similiar to the sponsor of the legislation, said Davis-Bacon Act that requires he concurred with the testi-