Nixon Abortion Stand A's 1971 led By Planned Parenthood Doctors

Planned Parenthood Physicians sonal views. assailed President Nixon today

assailed President Nixon today for expressing his personal and religious viewpoints on the abortion issue when it "is being considered in legislatures and courts."

In a letter reacting to statements by the President last Saturday, the association said it deplored his action because "in a pluralistic society the religious and moral beliefs of those who regard abortion as preferable to compulsory childbearing deserve the same respect as the beliefs of those who regard abortion.

The association also reacted "From personal and religious beliefs I consider abortion an unacceptable form of population control."

Dr. Richard Frank, president of the association, charged that Mr. Nixon's statement was comparable to one he made regarding Charles M. Manson while the fate of Manson and his followers was still in the hands of a jury in the Sharon Tate trial.

Charges Expediency

Dr. Guttmacher said Mr. Nixon apparently felt his statement was politically expedient.

The association also reacted the association also reacted sharply to a report that Governor Rockefeller of New York had suspended Medicaid payments for voluntary abortions performed under the laws of the state.

ized the directive was "economically poisonous", but he Hellman, deputy assistant direction it was a reaction to politor for population affairs in the lical pressure from upstate New Health, Education and Welfare nation.

In a statement on Saturday, President Nixon reported he had "directed that the policy on abortions at Americar bases in the United States bases in the United States buses in the United States.

"But while this matter is belief of the birth of ing debated in state capitals the third hundredth-million citiand weighed by variouszen," he said.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., (AP)—courts," he said, "the country The American Association of has a right to know my per-

"From personal and religious

Dr. Guttmacher said Mr. Nixon apparently felt his statement was politically expedient. He said the President had supported the population control concept, as indicated in his message to Congress July 18, 1969, and on other occasions. But he said Mr. Nixon had in effect scuttled any conclusions Calls It Political Pressure

Dr. Allen F. Guttmacher, president of Planned Parenthood-World Population, charged that Governor Rockefeller realized the directive was "economically poisonous", but he Hellman dental Mr. Nixon had in effect scuttled any conclusions that might have been reached by his own commission on) Population Growth and the American Future, whose chairman is John D. Rockefeller 3d. Meanwhile, Dr. Louis M. Hellman dental Mr. Nixon had in effect scuttled any conclusions that might have been reached by his own commission on). Population Growth and the Meanwhile, Dr. Louis M. Hellman dental occasions.

York. Dr. Guttmacher said the Department said that abortion directive represented a return was repugnant to many people, to the basest kind of discrimibut it had already slowed down nation.