

Teller Appointed To Foreign Intelligence Board

Washington

Edward Teller, a physicist, was appointed by President Nixon to the Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board yesterday.

Teller, 62, played a major role in the development of the first atom bomb. He succeeds Secretary of the Treasury John B. Connally on the presidential board.

Associated Press