President to Visit Canada: 'Would Like to Go to Japan'

Trudeau's Invitation Accepted for Next Spring—U.S. Move to Conciliate 2 Major Trading Partners Seen

NYTimes By JAMES M. NAUGHTON AUG 3 1 1971 Special to The New York Tim

like to go to Japan," the West-come of sensitive diplomatic ern White House announced negotiations on that journey is today.

L. Ziegler, the President's press takes. secretary, represented the latest effort by the Nixon Administra-President had decided against tion to adopt a concilatory tone traveling to Iran this fall for toward the two largest trading the celebration of the 2500th partners of the United States anniversary of the founding of and the two allies most severely the Persian empire. Instead, affected by Mr. Nixon's new the White House announced, economic policy.

to Canada, which was also an-the celebration in Persepolis, nounced by the Government of the seat of the empire founded Prime Minister Pierre Elliott by Cyrus the Great. Trudeau in Ottawa, Mr. Ziegler said that the President's desire nations will take part in the to travel to Japan "sometime celebration between Oct.

say whether the trip to Canada itinerary would be announced or the possible visit to Japan might precede Mr. Nixon's jour- Continued on Page 6, Column 1

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif., Aug. ney to China. The President is 30—President Nixon will visit scheduled to visit Peking some-Canada next spring and "would time before May and the outexpected to dictate the timing The announcement by Ronald of any foreign travels he under-

Mr. Ziegler said that the Vice President Agnew will No date was set for the visit represent the United States at Representatives of some 60 in the future" had not yet been and 18. Among them will be translated into a firm commitment.

On the Soviet Union. Mr. Zieg-The White House would not ler said that the Vice President's

antinued From Page 1, Col. 7

fater, leading to speculation that he would travel elsewhere on the way to and from Iran.

Mr. Ziegler said that Mr.

Nixon had accepted "in principle" an invitation to visit ciple" an invitation to visit Canada that was extended by Mr. Trudeau when he was in Washington in March, 1969, and that "it has now been agreed that the President will visit Canada sometime next spring."

He noted speculation that the Japanese Government, headed by Premier Fisaku Sato was ed by Premier Eisaku Sato, was preparing to issue a formal inpreparing to issue a formal invitation to Mr. Nixon to return the two visits the Japanese leader made to Washington in 1969 and 1970. Mr. Ziegler said that although no decision to accept such an offer had been made, "I would leave you with the thought the President would like to go to Japan sometime."

Japanese officials have expressed irritation that they had no more than a few minutes' notice of President Nixon's two major international moves of recent weeks, his announcement last month that he would go to Peking and his order on Aug. 15 imposing a 10 per cent surcharge on dutable imports and suspending a pledge to redeem foreign held dollars in gold. The diplomatic and trade maneuvers have had a major impact on Japan, worsening already strained relations between Tokyo and Washington.

Canadians Seek Exemption

Canadian trade officials have also been upset by the President's dollar diplomacy, arguing that their nation's exports should be exempt from the surcharge because of the integra-tion of the Canadian and American economies, Some 69 per cent of Canada's exports come to the United States, and Mr. Trudeau's Government has es-timated that at least one-fourth of these will be subject to the surcharge.

Mr. Nixon announced 10 days ago that he would fly to Anchorage on Sept. 26 to welcome Emperor Hirohito and Empress Emperor Hironito and Empress Nagako when their plane stops in Alaska for refueling on a trip to Europe. It will be the first stop on the first foreign journey ever undertaken by a reigning Japanese Emperor and will mark the first meeting in history between an incumbent American President and a Japanese Emperor.

American President and a Japanese Emperor.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower planned to visit Tokyo during a Far Eastern tour in 1960. But the trip came at a time of political crisis in Japan over renewal of the security treaty with the United States and the Japanese withdrew the invitation with anologies after. invitation with apologies after a leftist mob surrounded an a leftist mob surrounded an auto carrying Mr. Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, forcing his rescue by helicopter.

Mr. Nixon visited Japan a number of times before he became President.