Saturday, Nov. 6, 1971 THE WASHINGTON POST A4

Kennedy Swaps Sharp Blasts Over Rehnquist

By Spencer Rich Washington Post Staff Writer

(D-Mass.) yesterday lashed out the part of the executive at Supreme Court nominee branch" is all that is needed William H. Rehnquist, saying to prevent abusive and unwarthe nominee's record on civil ranted surveillance activities liberties and civil rights pre-sented the Senate with "a government; that Rehnquist prima facie case" against him.

to the nomination. Aides said Klein's speech, prepared for the Colorado Press Association meeting in Denver yesterday, was written before Kennedy's attack on Rehnquist, and was not de-speaking in Denver, before the National Legal Aid and De-fender Association, said Rehquist, though a man of "sharp intellect," was the President's "lawyer's lawyer during the time when the Dresident made perhaps more President made perhaps more legal errors than perhaps any predecessor."

Among such errors, he said, were "the President's tele-vised prejudgment of guilt during the Manson case," his statement on military bail for William Calley, his "surrender of the California Rural Legal Assistance Program to politi-cial expedience," and a half a dozen others.

"This was the lawyer who was the architect of some of these actions, the adviser on others and the last clear chance for sensibility on the rest," Kennedy said.

Kennedy said the case against Rehnquist was by no means settled yet, but he was When the nomina disturbed by the nominee's opposition to an Arizona law barring desegregation in public accommodations, by his comments on integration before coming to Washington, and by his record as the assistant at-

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy) ist believes "self-discipline on prima facie case" against him. Kennedy, meanwhile, was blasted by presidential direc-tor of communications Her-bert H. Klein, who called Ken-nedy "irresponsible," lacking a sense of "fair play" and sound-ing like a "political hatchet man" for his statements on a man" for his statements on a tive power in the war-making half dozen issues not related area and opposes Congress' right to limit or end the Vietnam war.

Kennedy said he believes the Senate has a right to re-ject Rehnquist "if he seems devoted to redistributing free-Rehnquist, and was not de-signed as a response. Kennedy, who also was speaking in Denver, before the National Legal Aid and De-fender Association, said come back and clarify his positions so that senators could be reassured on his stance on key issues.

The committee is to begin hearings Monday on the other Supreme Court nomined Lewis F. Powell Jr. of Rich mond, with public witnesses to follow. It is possible that chairman James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) will call the committee into executive session late next week to report out the nominations.

It now appears that there are only a few in committee votes against Rehnquist, who somewhat conciliated several members of the committee in

When the nomination will reach the floor is not clear. reach the floor is not clear. The Senate is seeking a Dec. 1 adjournment, and Majority Leader Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.) said yesterday he will not put aside other urgent leg-islation such as forgign gid his record as the assistant at-taorney general for legal coun-sel over the past two years. He said "a fair reading of the material" permitted a ten-tative conclusion that Rehnqu-will take them in stride.