

Denise Bourdet, Pacifica Washington Bureau:
"After all, as Supreme Court Justice Lewis Powell said,
'The public has nothing to fear from electronic surveillance, as long as the public is careful.'" [There was no indication that this was a direct quotation of statement by Powell, and no date was given.]