CHECKERS, CHOPPED LIVER AND ELLSBERG
by Shana Alexander

[From report on Republican National Convention.]

The big question in the minds of Insiders and Outsiders alike was: what does the average American go most for? Could it be Mr. Nixon's bathetic evocation, three nights running, of little Tanya, the orphan of Leningrad?