Air Force Brings in Documents To Rebut Discharged Analyst

NYTimes

APR 7 1973

Special to The New York Times

In a case that has taken about 25 hearing days in three years, Mr. Fitzgerald called 13 wit-messes in attempts to show the motivation behind his dismissal. Mr. Staiman overruled the motivation behind his dismissal. Listed Company's Address Lieut. Col. C. Claude Tea-garden, representing the Air Force, offered the documents. He said the majority showed that Mr. Fitzgerald did not lose incr because of bias. The re-quest by Mr. Bodner that he remove himself as an exam-incr because of bias. The re-quest came after Mr. Staiman implied that Mr. Bodner was his functions as a management nalyst after he testified before Congress. Most dealt with meetings he was assigned to attend. Others attempted to dis-credit him as a witness. Herman D. Staiman, chief of the appeals examining office of the Civil Service Commission, accepted parts of another, made no imediate ruling on one and rejected another. One. Colonel Teagarden soid no imediate ruling on one and rejected another. One, Colonel Teagarden said, showed Mr. Fitzgerald's notes in the margin of a document that the analyst asserted he had not seen before. Another listed Mr. Fitzger-ald's home address as the ad-dress of a company with which

MIN 1 1973Special to The New York TimesWASHINGTON, April 6—TheAir Force, relying on documents instead of witnesses at tempted to introduce 19 packets of letters, memos and trans-scripts today to rebut testimony of A. Ernest Fitzgerald at a ing.he contended he had broken of fall ties.Mr. Fitzgerald, who contends he was discharged from the Air Force for telling Congress of huge cost overruns on the C-5A military transport plane project, was a management analyst earn ing $32,000 a year before he was let go in an "economy"At third indicated Mr. Fitzgerald was not invited to the swearing-in ceremonies for Rob-of the Air Force. Mr. Fitzgerald had testified that he was at first invited, then told not to John Bodner Jr., one of Mr.
Fitzgerald's lawyers, said he was "astounded at the procedure Colonel Teagarden is following."Mr. Fitzgerald has taken aboutpoint of not cross-examining Teitrgerald