

SFChronicle MAY 11 1973

Kissinger Losing Aide

Washington

Winston Lord, one of Henry Kissinger's closest and most trusted aides, said yesterday he is leaving the White House to "read, reflect and recharge my batteries."

Lord, who was at Kissinger's side throughout the Vietnam negotiations, said in a brief telephone interview that he is taking what he described as a year-long sabbatical.

Associated Press