NTX AD Hoffa Produces Mitchell Affidavit Disclaiming Parole Restrictions

By Selig S. Harrison Washington Post Staff Writer

Former Teamster President James R. Hoffa yesterday stepped up his battle to get the courts as he has threat-back into union politics by ened to do, Saxbe declared. producing a sworn statement in which former Attorney General John N. Mitchell disclaimed recommending the parole restrictions that bar Hoffa from union office until 1980.

The affidavit bolstered Hoffa's contention that the bar was the result of White House political intervention on be-half of incumbent Teamster President Frank E. Fitzsimmons.

President Nixon commuted a combined 13-year sentence for mail fraud and jury tamp-ering on Dec. 23, 1971, reducing the term to the 61/2 years

Hoffa had already served. But Mr. Nixon granted the parole on condition that Hoffa not engage in "direct or indi-rect management of any labor organization" until 1980. Attorney General William

Attorney General William B. Saxbe prompted the Hoffa disclosure yesterday by saying that he had been approached by a member of Congress with a letter from Hoffa's son, an attorney, seeking a full par-don. But Saxbe said he will not respond to the request. "I certainly am not going fo

"I certainly am not going to intervene in this," Saxbe said, adding that he found "no indi-

Hoffa can take the issue to Hoffa."

In a prompt response issued through a Washington group identified as the National Association for Justice, Hoffa contended, "The conditions ulaced upon me did emanate from the Justice Department, nor were they placed upon me at the insistence of the Justice to the Teamsters Union. Department."

To back up the claim, he released a copy of an affidavit worn before a Kings County, N.Y., notary public on Oct. 15, 1973, in which Mitchell de-clared that neither he "nor, to my knowledge, any other official of the Department of Justice during my tenure as Atcation along the line that torney General initiated or these restrictions will be re-moved." Hoffe can take the issue to torney General initiated or suggested the inclusions of re-strictions in the presidential commutation of James R.

While he is grateful for the commutation of his sentence, Hoffa said, "I particularly resent those persons who had a hand in depriving me of my livelihood as a labor leader in an illegal manner."

This was regarded as a reference to Fitzsimmons and former White House aide Charles Coloson, now a counsel
