Senate Aide Takes Off For Cuba Fact-Finding

By Spencer Rich Washington Post Staff Writer

In what could herald the State Department to validate congressional drive for im- Cuba. proved relations with Cuba, Foreign Committee staff director Pat last December that he had de-M. Holt took off for Cuba yes- cided to approve the visit, terday for a 10-day study mis- made it clear that U.S. policy sion and meetings with top is still to "discourage travel to Cubar officials it was learned Cuba" and that Holt "in no Cuban officials, it was learned from State sources.

Holt, 54, is the first high- wishes. level U.S. official to visit Cuba in more than a decade. It has

Robber Seizes Teller's Cash

An unidentified armed robber escaped with an undetermined amount of money yesterday afternoon from the In-sibilities for terstate Building Association tente.

around the neck of a customer when the sentator was a leadshe was assisting and said: ing voice of moderation. Holt first tentative gropings of a Holt's passport for travel to Secretaty of State Henry A. Relations Kissinger, informing Fulbright Department way represents the executive branch." But he said he was bowing to Fulbright's strong Holt's precedent-shattering visit (the U.S. broke off relataken eight years of pressure from Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.) to get the bright (D-Ark.) to get the bright (D-Ark.) to get the bright (D-Ark.) to get the administration. It is described as "purely fact-finding," Aking the other visits he has made as tions with the regime of Fidel to other visits he has made as a Latin American specialist for the committee over much of the past 24 years.

However, it clearly could have larger consequences in opening up a dialogue and in allowing the Senate commit-tee to get much closer look at the Castro regime and the pos-"caribbean de-office at 5100 Wisconsin Ave.

NW, police said.

Teller Helen Tanner told police the man placed his arm around the neck of a customer

HOIL, WHO LOOK OVER AS SLAIL director of Foreign Relations early this year when Carl Marcy retired, was a key adviser to Fulbright during the around the neck of a customer when the contain was a lead. Holt, who took over as staff "Fill it (a briefcase) up and be fast, or I'll blow her head off."
Police said Mrs. Tanner gave him money and at his demand another teller gave him money from a safe.

Police said the man armed broke with president Johnson Police said the man, armed with a large pistol, escaped on of his oldest and closest through a nearby parking lot. friends.