

From Maxine Cheshire's column:

.....

One of the odder items that Uncle Sam pays for at the Western White House is Elizabeth Arden soap. It's expensive - three dollars per cake - but a General Services Administration spokesman says it's not supplied to everyone in the Nixon family. It is ordered by the case, but strictly for the President's office lavatory . . .

.....