National Guardian?), suggests Nixon is a psychopath; gives examples of Nixon's behavior which he believes support his view. As one such example, Jenkins after describing incident on 9 May 70, at the height of the Cambodian crisis - when Nixon with his valet went to the Lincoln Memorial at 4:55 a.m. and Nixon discussed football with student demonstr tors, goes on to say: "Then he took Sanchez on a personal sunrise tour of the deserted Capitol. At the House of Representatives, he was met by H.R. At the House of Representatives, he was met by H.R. Haldeman, Ron Ziegler, and Dwight Chapin. The President climbed onto the dais, sat down, and simply stared out at the emoty chamber." * 1. 47.) Jenning says, "His aftire Presidency, the rise and fall of hichard Mixon, and Wall gate too, its genesis and its meaning, optim to focus if we examine him not as a success but as a tailure." (p. 49.) hichard Mixon, and Watergate too, its genesis and its meaning, begin to focus if we examine him not as a success but as a failure." (p. 49.) but as a failure." , (p. 49.) 1. 1. A. S.
