

“RICHARD’ HITS THE FUNNY BONE!

DELICIOUS, VERY FUNNY, WONDERFUL!

‘Richard’ is a clever, very funny, contribution to the campaign-year silly season. Light-handed and light-hearted, it hits the funny bone. Skillfully acted with Mickey Rooney as his guardian angel, John Carradine as the mad doctor, and, in a delicious sequence, Paul Ford, Kevin McCarthy and Vivian Blaine as the folks who try to give him a new image by a ‘Clockwork Orange’ brainwashing. It works like ‘Clockwork’... but then again so does ‘Richard’.”—Judith Crist, New York Magazine

“A WILDLY COMIC MOVIE! You will find more yoks in ‘Richard’ than there are promises in a campaign speech!”—William Wolf, Cue Magazine

“THE GENTLEST OF SATIRE. Richard is introduced as the most powerful man in the world, and he walks on stage and at once breaks into a spirited, clumsy little vaudeville dance that is very funny and almost horrifyingly appealing.”
—Roger Greenspun, New York Times

“‘RICHARD’ IS A SCREAM! It makes one thing perfectly clear—in fact, it makes many things perfectly clear—that Lorees Yerby and Harry Hurwitz have made a very funny movie. The comedic possibilities are infinite and all situations are exploited hilariously. There is a superb take-off on ‘Clockwork Orange’ that is one of the funniest moments in films of the year!”—Jeffrey Lyons, WPIX-TV

“HILARIOUS AND ENTERTAINING!

A picture every decent American will applaud. It is a return to the heart-warming, inspirational comedies, the sort of wholesome family entertainment we have been deprived of too long!”

—Howard Kissel, Women’s Wear Daily

“AMERICA CAN STILL LAUGH AT ITSELF! It has become one of the few places where a film like ‘Richard’ can be made!”—Bob Salmaggi, Group W Network

“HAPPY DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN!

‘Richard’ is a fantastically funny movie, the writing and directing of Lorees Yerby and Harry Hurwitz is superb! If film were rated just for fun, X-ceptional for this fun one!”—Our Town
