Nixons Going To Florida*For Christmas*Washington

The President and Mrs. Nixon will fly to their Key Biscayne, Fla., home late today to spend the Christmas holidays.

Announcing this yesterday, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler said he did not know when the Nixons would return to the capital. The chief executive normally returns after New Year's.

This will be the first year the Nixons have spent Christmas Day away from the White House.

The family circle will be smaller this year because their daughters Tricia Cox and Julie Eisenhower and their husbands will celebrate Christmas in Greece.
