

Notes on People James F. Clarity

President Nixon smiled as he read a Labor Department report and said: "Most government reports are so dull, nobody reads them except the press. This one has pictures — even the press can understand that."