

The Raiders' Return

Their wives and children rushed out to greet the Green beret raiders as they filed off the planes

UPI Telephoto

AP Wirephoto

Raider's Home

A Green Beret commando clutched his M-16 rifle in one hand as he and his wife walked away from the plane that brought the raid team back to Fort Bragg, N.C., yesterday after their daring but futile attempt to rescue POWs in a North Vietnamese prison camp. Story on Page 20.