

President Nixon's difficult decision, reached on Friday [15 Dec] to resume mining Haiphong harbor the following day and unleash full-scale bombing of North Vietnam's heartland Monday morning, exactly fits the tough war strategy he has followed at every climactic point since he took office four years ago.

Evans and Novak,
Washington Post 20 Dec 72