Defense Department Releases Partial List of War Prisoners

The Department of Defense is releasing names of 555 prisoners as soon as next of kin have been notified.

Here is a partial list, by branch of military service or civilian status with information available.

The names are alphabetized only by the first letter of the last name. Thus Adams and Aiken, for instance would both be under "A" but not necessarily in that order.
