Red Dines In Saigon

Saigon

Lieutenant General Tran Van Tra, a leader of the Viet Cong 1968 Tet attack against Saigon, drove into the downtown area on the city today to have breakfast with the Indonesian delegation to the International Commission of Control and Supervision.

Tra is the chief of the Viet Cong delegation to the four-party Joint Military Commission.

It was the first time any Viet Cong delegate had been in downtown Saigon since delegates arrived here after the January 23 Vietnam cease-fire.
